As one of the nation's leading research universities, Colorado State provides an excellent and accessible education, conducts research that transforms our world, and leads outreach programs that support economic vitality and improve the quality of life for people worldwide.

As Colorado's land-grant university, Colorado State was founded in 1870 to fulfill the vision of President Abraham Lincoln and others—to create access and opportunity for people in Colorado and around the world who can benefit from hands-on, engaged learning.

With more than 150 programs of study and 78 undergraduate degree programs in eight colleges—and a faculty-to-student ratio of 16.5:1—students have access to a wealth of educational possibilities. Colorado State leads the world in disciplines such as human and animal health, clean energy and the environment, global and sustainable business, engineering, and climate research. Along with outstanding programs in the liberal and performing arts, humanities and social sciences, Colorado State offers some of the top professional programs in the country in construction management, occupational therapy, psychology, communications and agriculture—and is home to the top-ranked public business school in the state.

Challenging academic programs and world-changing research are hallmarks of Colorado State, and it is our special commitment to service, outreach, and transforming our world through innovation that sets this university apart. Even more important, CSU's character is reflected in the quality of our students and graduates, who embody the university's mission of service and go on to make a significant impact on our world when they graduate.

We invite you to learn more about Colorado State, a university with vision, character and a commitment to excellence.

- CSU's Veterinary Medicine program ranks third in the country, also ranking third in national federal research dollars.
- BusinessWeek ranked CSU's undergraduate College of Business program 67th. The marketing and business law programs were ranked in the nation's Top 10 by the magazine.
- In 2008, CSU conferred its 150,000th bachelor's degree and 200,000th overall degree.
- According to NCAA statistics, CSU's graduation rate for student-athletes is higher than the graduation rate for the overall student body.

Colorado State University takes very seriously its role in educating student-athletes. Excellence is expected on the field and in the classroom.

The most recent NCAA academic statistics reveal that Colorado State leads the Mountain West Conference in graduation rate for student-athletes at 66 percent – well ahead of the conference's overall student-athlete graduation rate of 57 percent. In football, Colorado State is second in the MW, graduating 68 percent of its student-athletes – again, well ahead of the conference average of 49 percent. Additionally, CSU student-athletes graduate at a higher percentage than the general student body.

Colorado State, however, is not resting on its reputation for graduating its student-athletes. The state-of-the-art Anderson Academic Center, which has greatly enhanced the academic facilities available for student-athletes, opened in August 2009.

While the athletic department takes its role in the educational process very seriously, Colorado State's mission to provide a world-class education is at the core of academic success. U.S. News and World Report ranked Colorado State in its top tier in its annual "America's Best Colleges" report. The university offers 72 majors and 27 minors, and many of its programs are ranked among the best in the country.

Colorado State continues to push forward in its mission to provide the best possible education. Construction recently was completed on the state-of-the-art University Center for the Arts and Computer Science buildings and the Rockwell Hall expansion at the College of Business.

- No. 1 place to live in the U.S. (Money magazine, August 2006).
- No. 1 Best Place to Live and Work for Young Professionals (pop. 100,000-200,000), Next Generation Consulting, March 2009.
- No. 2 in Forbes magazine's best United States cities for business and careers (March 2009); Denver ranked 14th and Boulder was 20th among five Colorado locations in the publication's top 40.
- One of the Top 20 Places to Thrive (Best Boomer Towns, February 2009).
- Ranked fifth-most educated city in America (Forbes magazine, November 2008).
- One of the Best Places to Raise Your Kids (BusinessWeek, November 2008).
- Gold level Bicycle Friendly Community (League of American Bicyclists, 2013).

One of Colorado's most vibrant cities, Fort Collins is the best place in the country to live, work and play. Tucked against the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, the city is within an hour's drive of Denver, the nation's 25th-largest metro area.

Fort Collins' 145,000 residents bask in 300 days of sunshine per year — more than San Diego and Florida — and the city boasts a lively arts and cultural scene, and is a haven for outdoor enthusiasts with over 300 miles of bike paths and trails, and easy access to the scenic Poudre River and majestic Rocky Mountain National Park.

Old Town Fort Collins, the inspiration for Disneyland's Mainstreet USA.

Since its founding as a military fort in 1864, Fort Collins has anchored northern Colorado's rich heritage of academic, business and recreational pursuits. Hiking, mountain biking, kayaking, river rafting and rock climbing are just a few popular outdoor pursuits for students and residents.

The city maintains more than 600 acres of parks, 30,000 acres of natural areas, 29 miles of off-street trails for hiking and biking, and four golf courses. Old Town, the heart of Fort Collins, offers a one-of-a-kind shopping experience and more than 80 restaurants, in addition to a vibrant night life and multiple cultural arts centers.

Horsetooth Reservoir, located just a few miles west of CSU's main campus, offers great outdoors opportunities including camping, boating, fishing, swimming, hiking, climbing and more.

The Denver Metro Area, with a population of 2.4 million, is less than an hour's drive from Fort Collins. Three of its teams have competed for their respective world championships in the past 15 years, and Colorado fans are among the most passionate in the nation. Denver has all the features of any big city, including great shopping and nightlife on the 16th Street Mall (Denver Pavilions, right), a one-of-a-kind concert venue in Red Rocks Amphitheatre (below, right), an adrenaline-inducing amusement park in Elitch Gardens (below, left), and the world's 10th-busiest airport, Denver International.

Nicknamed the Mile High City because it is one mile above sea level, downtown Denver is home to the Colorado state capitol building, the 13th step of which is exactly one mile in elevation.

THIS IS THE MOUNTAIN WEST

From its inception in 1999, the Mountain West has been committed to excellence in intercollegiate athletics, while promoting the academic missions of its member institutions. Progressive in its approach, the MW continues to cultivate opportunities for student-athletes to compete at the highest level, while fostering academic achievement and sportsmanship. Now in its 15th year, the MW has been assertive in its involvement with the NCAA governance structure and has taken a leadership role in the overall administration of intercollegiate athletics.

The Mountain West has marked several achievements over its first 14 years of existence, most notably becoming the first to establish a sports television network dedicated solely to an intercollegiate athletic conference (The Mtn.). The Mountain West also was the first to experiment with the coaches' challenge in the college football instant replay system, and was the first non-automatic-qualifying BCS conference to participate in four BCS bowl games, winning three. Additionally, the Mountain West was the first conference to have a member institution with No. 1 overall picks in both the NFL and NBA drafts in the same year (Utah's Alex Smith and Andrew Bogut, respectively in 2005). With San Diego State's Stephen Strassburg claiming the No. 1 pick in the 2009 MLB Draft, the Mountain West is one of two conferences to have the No. 1 selection in each of the NFL, NBA and MLB drafts since the MW was founded in 1999. In 2011-12, the Mountain West was among the first conferences to implement a league-wide state-of-the-art basketball instant replay system.

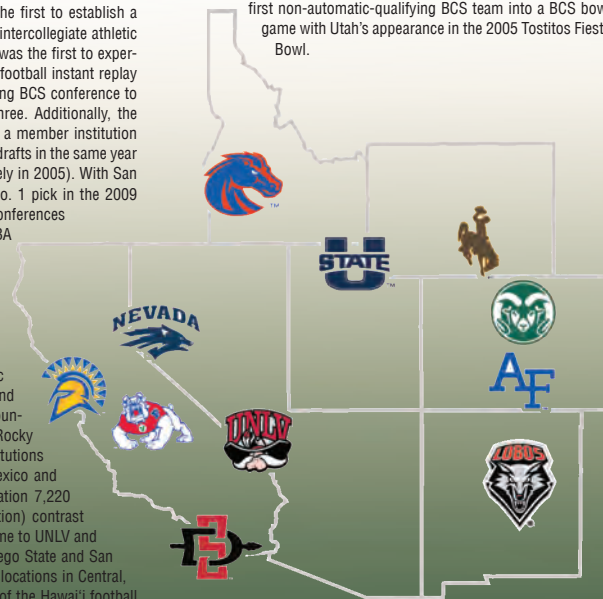

The Mountain West is noted for its geographic diversity. Some of the most beautiful terrain and landscapes in the nation can be found within Mountain West boundaries, including the majestic Rocky Mountain range, which borders five MW institutions (Air Force, Boise State, Colorado State, New Mexico and Utah State). The high plains of Wyoming (elevation 7,220 feet — the highest Division I campus in the nation) contrast with the desert cities of Las Vegas and Reno, home to UNLV and Nevada, respectively, while Fresno State, San Diego State and San Jose State add a West coast influence with their locations in Central, Southern and Northern California. The inclusion of the Hawai'i football program extends the Mountain West footprint to the beautiful islands in the Pacific Ocean.

HISTORY

The Mountain West was conceived on May 26, 1998, when the presidents of eight institutions — Air Force, BYU, Colorado State, New Mexico, San Diego State, UNLV, Utah and Wyoming — decided to form a new NCAA Division I-A intercollegiate athletic conference. The split from a former 16-team conference re-established continuity and stability among the membership within the new league and signaled the continuation of its tradition-rich, long-standing athletic rivalries. Three of the MW's eight original members have been conference rivals since the 1960s (New Mexico, Wyoming and Colorado State), while San Diego State (1978) and Air Force (1980) were former members as well. UNLV and TCU entered the fold in 1996 and the Rebels continued as one of the original eight institutions that formed the MW in 1999. TCU re-joined the group with its first year of competition in the Mountain West in 2005-06. With conference realignment sweeping the nation in recent years, the MW has been proactive in addressing membership changes. Boise State University joined the Mountain West in 2011-12, followed by Fresno State and the University of Nevada on July 1, 2012. Also on July 1, 2012, the University of Hawai'i became a football-only member of the Conference. On July 1, 2013, the Mountain West further expanded when San Jose State University and Utah State University joined the Conference, bringing to 11 the number of full-time member institutions and 12 football-playing members.

When the Mountain West officially began operations on July 1, 1999, the new league had in place a seven-year contract with ESPN, giving the broadcaster exclusive national television rights to MW football and men's basketball, and three-year agreements to send the league's football champion to the Liberty Bowl and a second team to the Las Vegas Bowl. Commissioner Craig Thompson also arranged a third bowl tie-in each of the first three seasons (1999 Motor City, 2000 Silicon Valley, 2001 New Orleans) before securing a four-year deal with the Emerald Bowl in San Francisco in 2002. Entering the 2013 season, the MW has six contracted bowl affiliations — the Las Vegas Bowl, San Diego Country Credit Union Poinsettia Bowl, Bell Helicopter Armed Forces Bowl, Sheraton Hawai'i Bowl, Famous Potato Idaho Bowl and Gildan New Mexico Bowl.

An innovator in the postseason bowl structure, the MW engineered many "firsts," as league teams have participated in five inaugural bowl games (2000 Silicon Valley, 2001 New Orleans, 2002 San Francisco (Emerald), 2005 Poinsettia, 2006 New Mexico), as well as placing the first non-automatic-qualifying BCS team into a BCS bowl game with Utah's appearance in the 2005 Tostitos Fiesta Bowl.

Student-athletes at Colorado State are students first, and a quality learning environment is essential to achieving the high standards expected of them. That's why, in 2009, the Anderson Academic Training Center was completed, offering Rams student-athletes a first-class academic facility.

Features:

- Includes a computer lab with 30 workstations, more workspace and offices for CSU's academic staff.
- Features five private tutorial rooms and large study areas.

The training portion includes a state-of-the-art weight room and strength and conditioning center, in addition to a nutrition center.

Training Room

Additionally, during the summer of 2013, the training room went through a major transformation, nearly doubling in size, helping make it one of the finest in the country. It features a multitude of taping and treatment tables, rehabilitation equipment and more.

Also established in 2009 was the Indoor Practice Facility, measuring more than 66,000 square feet. The structure allows the team to practice and train indoors during bad weather.

Features:

- Contains a 70-yard synthetic-turf football field, including one end zone.
- Can accommodate all 16 varsity sports, and includes a four-lane, 70 meter track, large gymnasium and more.

HOMES OF THE RAMS

Colorado State University student-athletes in all sports enjoy some of the finest facilities in the country, including (counter clockwise from left) Moby Arena, men's and women's basketball and volleyball; University Tennis Courts, tennis; Moby Pool, swimming & diving Ram Field, softball; Fort Collins Soccer Complex, soccer; Harmony Club, men's and women's golf; Sonny Lubick Field at Hughes Stadium, football; and Jack Christiansen Track, outdoor track & field.

Ready to embark on its first season in program history, the Colorado State women's soccer team is not backing away from some of the premier programs in the sport.

2013 Schedule

The 2013 slate will begin with a weekend trip to Lubbock, Texas, where the Rams will open up the season against Lubbock Christian on Friday, Aug. 23, before taking on Big 12 powerhouse, Texas Tech, on the 25th. The Red Raiders finished last season ranked in the top 25.

Colorado State will play its first ever home game on Friday, Sept. 6 at Fort Collins Soccer Complex, when it takes on Grand Canyon University, its only non-conference home game of the season. From there, the Rams will finish off its non-conference slate with three road matches against Northern Arizona, North Dakota State and Southern Illinois.

CSU will open up its conference slate on Friday, Sept. 27 against in-state foe Air Force, and then will play host to Wyoming on Sept. 29.

From there, the Rams will go on the road and take on defending-champion San Diego State on Oct. 4, who finished seventh in the nation last year. CSU will then return home to take on New Mexico on Oct. 6. The Lobos finished second in the Mountain West last year, and again have aspirations of competing for a Mountain West title this year.

The Rams will also play host to Utah State (Oct. 18) and Boise State (Oct. 20) in the conference slate, before closing out the year with three road matches. Colorado State will conclude the season on the road at Northern Colorado on Friday, Nov. 1.

In total, the Rams will play 18 matches in their inaugural season, including six at home.

2013 Roster

Hot on the trail and recruiting some of the finest players in the area to play for Colorado State, Head Coach Bill Hempen secured 11 early commitments before adding nine more to complete the first-ever soccer roster for Colorado State.

The Rams will feature a team of both older players and incoming freshman in hopes of competing right away in their first season.

Fort Collins High School standout Megan Speed is transferring to play at Colorado State after playing the 2011 campaign for Northern Colorado, while fellow Fort Collins local, Jami Vaughn returns home after two years at Kansas. Defender Jessica Stauffer is transferring to the Rams from Wright State University where she helped lead the team to a Horizon League Conference Championship runner-up finish.

Offensive threat Erika Bratschun also brings collegiate experience with her to CSU, transferring from Louisiana-Lafayette. Junior Catherine Ruder will face her former school, San Jose State late in the season.

Colorado State incoming freshman Carly Seib is a graduate from Grandview High School and was named team MVP her senior season after scoring nine goals and helping anchor the defense. Amy Eckert joins the Rams from Colorado Springs, where she won a state championship at Cheyenne Mountain and was named Colorado's 4A Player of the Year.

Rounding out the rest of the inaugural roster for CSU are Elena Eidson, Lizzy Gogolowski, Jessica Jochheim, Maggie Sherman, Whitney Morin, Ellie Petrik, Sierra Cymes, Kaitlyn Storm, Amanda McKeon, Sarah Wontrobski Megan Boyle, Sasha Pchenitnikova and Anyssa Juarez.

BILL HEMPEN

Head Coach | First Year | 25th Year Overall

Veteran Division I soccer coach and Colorado resident Bill Hempen became Colorado State University's first head women's soccer coach on Feb. 5, 2013.

Hempen is one of the sport's all-time greats, ranking No. 17 in NCAA Division I history for career wins (276-188-44). In 24 seasons as a head coach he has developed 10 All-Americans, coached six players who have gone on to play professionally and guided his 1992 Duke team to the NCAA championship final.

He earned National Coach of the Year honors from the National Soccer Coaches Association of America in 1992, and has been named conference coach of the year four times.

Hempen began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Northeast Louisiana in 1982 before assuming a full-time assistant coaching position at Centenary College in Shreveport, La., a year later. After three years at Centenary he joined the Duke men's program as an assistant coach in 1986 and was part of a staff that led the Blue Devils to three NCAA tournament berths, including a national championship in his first season.

When Duke added a women's soccer program in 1988 Hempen was tabbed to build and develop that program from the ground up as its first head coach. He earned more than 160 wins in 13 seasons (1988-2000), coaching seven All-Americans and appearing in eight NCAA tournaments in his final nine seasons in Durham. In 1992, the Blue Devils advanced to the national championship game just five years after the team's inception.

After his tenure at Duke, Hempen spent 11 seasons in the state of Colorado, transforming the University of Colorado women's program.

Prior to his arrival in 2001, the Buffaloes had never produced a winning record. In 2003, Hempen's third at CU, his team won the Big 12 title and advanced to the NCAA tournament, the first of six under Hempen's tutelage. That year, Hempen also was named the Big 12 Coach of the Year.

Hempen went 114-88-28 at CU before stepping down after the 2011 season. The Buffs advanced to the Sweet Sixteen in 2006, and during his time in Boulder, three of his players earned All-America status.

Even more impressive is how quickly he was able to turn the program around. In 2001, his first at CU, the Buffs went 3-11-1. The year following, his team went 10-8-2, marking the biggest single-season turnaround in Big 12 history. Just one year later, his team was atop the conference standings.

Hempen has served as a scout and player development coach for U.S. Soccer since 2011. In that position he has identified players for the National Team and been involved in player selection, organization and coaching of the top Region III players. Hempen also has more than a decade of experience with multiple club and junior national teams. He has served as Director of Soccer for Alexander Dawson School in Lafayette, Colo., for the past year, coaching both the boys and girls high school teams, in addition to overseeing the development of the middle and elementary school programs.

As a player, Hempen spent two seasons at Meramec Community College, playing goalie for the 1976 junior college national championship and 1977 runner-up teams. He then lettered two years at the University of Evansville, graduating in 1981 with a degree in health/physical education. After graduation, he was drafted by the New Jersey Americans of the American Soccer League.

Hempen and his wife, Stephanie, married in 1999. They have two children: Emma (13) and Lucas (11), and currently reside in Louisville, Colo.

KELLY LABOR

Assistant Coach | First Year | Fourth Year Overall

Kelly Labor begins her first season on the CSU women's soccer staff as an assistant coach.

Labor joins Head Coach Bill Hemen after three years as an assistant at Regis University. While there she was tasked with individual technical and group skill development. Labor helped guide the Rangers to RMAC championships and NCAA Division II tournaments in 2010, 2011 and 2012.

In addition to her duties at Regis, Labor was also involved in the Colorado Olympic Development Program, while she is also a part of the coaching staff at Westminster AFC on the U16 and U15 Super League teams.

Labor holds her NSCAA Advanced National Coaching license as well as a masters in industrial and organizational psychology with a specialization in leadership development.

A native Steamboat Springs, Colo., Labor attended Regis University for one year. While there she was awarded Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference Freshman of the Year, first-team all-conference, all-tournament and NSCAA second-team all-region.

Labor then transferred to UNLV to complete her undergrad in psychology. The program honored her with the Robin Morlock Award for work ethic, leadership and dedication. A three-time academic all-Mountain West honoree, Labor helped her team to the regular-season championship in 2007.
