Welcome to Colorado State University!

It's going to be a great year for Colorado State University—and as a Rams fan, I'm fully convinced Ram athletics is on a very strong trajectory to success.

A healthy, competitive athletics programs is driven by student athletes who embody the high personal standards, strong character, and commitment to excellence that are characteristic of a great University. At CSU, we expect that our athletes have a commitment to teamwork and success that's fully matched by their commitment to individual achievement in the classroom and to serving as a positive role model on campus and in the community. And every year, our Ram athletes meet and exceed this expectation.

Their success is important for our entire campus community. We all work hard and take life seriously—when the Rams score, it gives us a reason to celebrate and show off our unabashed pride in all things green and gold. The success of our sports teams also helps draw attention to the University as a whole and, because we run a clean and well-grounded program, it spotlights the importance we place on key civic values like responsibility, integrity, and fair play.

While we have high standards for our student-athletes in the classroom and on the field, we also believe it is the University's responsibility to provide them—and all our students—with the tools they need to compete and succeed at the highest levels. That is why we've been investing in upgraded classroom buildings and residence halls these last few years, and why we've also completed a new practice facility and state-of-the-art Academic and Training Center, which offers student athletes quality weight-training facilities paired with study environments, computer labs, and academic support needed to help them balance the demands of coursework and competition.

Like our fans, we have high expectations for our athletics programs, and we're confident in the leadership of our coaches and Athletic Director Paul Kowalczyk, who work to keep our programs competitive, transparent, and high-quality. Colorado State is extremely fortunate to have an intensely loyal fan base, and success on the court or on the field is a great reward to our supporters. But our greatest reward is the success that we all share when the young men and women in the Rams jerseys graduate and go on to achieve great things in their lives after CSU.

On behalf of Colorado State's students, faculty, staff, and alumni, I thank you for your continued support of Ram athletics.

Go Rams!

The Board of Governors of the Colorado State University System represents the people of Colorado, assuring effective management, accountability, and responsible leadership of all the CSU System campuses – Fort Collins, Pueblo, and the new online Global Campus.

Board members come from across the state and from many fields — business, public service, agriculture — and share a strong commitment to excellence, innovation, and student success.

The Board of Governors sets a standard of excellence for all the campuses that carry the Colorado State name, through the establishment of a bold vision, mission, and values coupled with ambitious stretch goals for each campus, and strongly supports Colorado State athletics programs as a source of pride for students, alumni, and the State of Colorado.

The Board of Governors and the CSU System work to further the roles of its three campuses to be integral contributors to the economic development of the state. Work force education, research funding, and new business and product development are some of the areas in which the institutions are excelling.

As one of the nation's leading research universities, Colorado State provides an excellent, accessible education, conducts research that transforms our world, and leads outreach programs that support economic vitality and improve the quality of life for people worldwide.

As Colorado's land-grant university, Colorado State was founded in 1870 to fulfill the vision of President Abraham Lincoln and others – to create access and opportunity for people in Colorado and around the world who can benefit from hands-on, engaged learning. With more than 150 programs of study and 78 undergraduate degree programs in eight colleges – and a faculty-to-student ratio of 16.5:1 – students have access to a wealth of educational possibilities. Colorado State leads the world in disciplines such as human and animal health, clean energy and the environment, global and sustainable business, engineering, and climate research. Along with outstanding programs in the liberal and performing arts, humanities and social sciences, Colorado State offers some of the top professional programs in the country in construction management, occupational therapy, psychology, communications, and agriculture—and is home to the top-ranked public business school in the state.

Challenging academic programs and world-changing research are hallmarks of Colorado State, and it is our special commitment to service, outreach, and transforming our world through innovation that sets this university apart from other institutions. That commitment is reflected in our classrooms, in the work of our faculty around the world, and in our groundbreaking commitment to move research breakthroughs rapidly from the laboratory to the marketplace. Even more important, it is reflected in the quality of our students and graduates, who embody the university's mission and go on from CSU to make a significant impact on our world.

We invite you to learn more about Colorado State, a university with vision, character, and a commitment to excellence.

Colorado State University takes very seriously its role in educating student-athletes. Excellence is expected on the field and in the classroom.

The most recent NCAA academic statistics reveal that Colorado State leads the Mountain West Conference in graduation rate for student-athletes at 66 percent – well ahead of the conference’s overall student-athlete graduation rate of 57 percent. In football, Colorado State is second in the MWC, graduating 68 percent of its student-athletes – again, well ahead of the conference average of 49 percent.

Colorado State, however, is not resting on its reputation for graduating its student-athletes. The state-of-the-art Anderson Academic Center, which greatly enhance the academic facilities available for student-athletes, opened in August 2009.

While the athletic department takes its role in the educational process very seriously, Colorado State’s mission to provide a world-class education is at the core of academic success. U.S. News and World Report ranked Colorado State in its top tier in its annual “America’s Best Colleges” report. The university offers 79 majors and 27 minors, and many of its programs are ranked among the best in the country.

Colorado State continues to push forward in its mission to provide the best possible education. Construction recently was completed on the state-of-the-art University Center for the Arts and Computer Science buildings, the Indoor Practice Facility, Academic and Training Center, and the Rockwell Hall expansion of College of Business.

- CSU’s Veterinary Medicine program ranks second in the country and is the national leader in federal research dollars.
- BusinessWeek ranked CSU’s undergraduate College of Business program 67th (up from 73rd in 2008). The program ranks 30th among all public schools and 14th among all colleges and universities in the West and Southwest. The marketing and business law programs were ranked in the nation’s Top 10 by the magazine.
- In December 2008, CSU conferred its 150,000th bachelor’s degree and 200,000th overall degree.
- According to NCAA statistics, CSU’s graduation rate for student-athletes is higher than the graduation rate for the overall student body.

Fort Collins Facts

- No. 1 place to live in the United States (Money magazine, August 2006).
- No. 1 Best Place to Live and Work for Young Professionals (pop. 100,000-200,000), Next Generation Consulting, March 2009.
- No. 2 in Forbes magazine's best United States cities for business and careers (March 2009); Denver ranked 14th and Boulder was 20th among five Colorado locations in the publication's top 40.

- One of the Top 20 Places to Thrive (Best Boomer Towns, February 2009).
- Ranked 10th-best educated city in America (Forbes magazine, November 2008).
- One of the Best Places to Raise Your Kids (BusinessWeek, November 2008).
- Gold level Bicycle Friendly Community (League of American Bicyclists, September 2008).

One of Colorado's most vibrant cities, Fort Collins is the best place in the country to live, work and play. Located on the northern Front Range of the majestic Rocky Mountains, the city is within an hour's drive of Denver, the nation's 25th-largest metro area.

This city of 137,200 residents basks in 300 days of sunshine per year — more than San Diego and Florida — and includes the historic Old Town district with its restaurants, shops, and entertainment, all within walking distance of Colorado State University's campus.

Since its founding as a military fort in 1864, Fort Collins has anchored northern Colorado's rich heritage of academic, business and recreational pursuits. Hiking, mountain biking, kayaking, river rafting and rock climbing are just a few popular outdoor pursuits for students and residents.

The city maintains more than 600 acres of parks, 5,000 acres of natural areas, 20 miles of off-street trails for hiking and biking, and three golf courses. The Lincoln Center and the University Center for the Arts, anchored in Fort Collins, are northern Colorado's cultural arts centers.

The Denver Metro Area, with a population of 2.4 million, is less than an hour's drive from Fort Collins. A major-league metropolis, named by the Sporting News the best sports city in the United States, Denver is home to three teams that have competed for their respective world championships in the past 12 years — the Super Bowl XXXII and XXXIII champion Denver Broncos, the 1996 and 2001 Stanley Cup champion Colorado Avalanche, and the 2007 National League champion Colorado Rockies, who lost the World Series that season to the Boston Red Sox. The Denver Nuggets, meanwhile, have made the playoffs in seven consecutive seasons, including a trip to the 2009 Western Conference finals against the eventual champion Los Angeles Lakers.

Sports fans in Colorado are among the most passionate in the nation, and for good reason — their teams are winners.

Denver has all the features of any big city, including great shopping and nightlife on the 16th Street Mall (Denver Pavilions, below left), a one-of-a-kind concert venue in Red Rocks Amphitheatre (below, second from right), an adrenaline-inducing amusement park in Elitch Gardens, and the world's 10th-busiest airport, Denver International. Nicknamed the Mile High City because it is one mile above sea level, downtown Denver is home to the Colorado state capitol building, the 13th step of which is exactly one mile in elevation.

New Academic & Training Center

Cost: $7 million
Size: 16,000 square feet,
Location: Southeast of the McGraw Athletic Center

Features:

- Training portion includes a state-of-the-art weight room, strength and conditioning offices, a nutrition center and restrooms.
- Academic center features five private tutorial rooms and large study areas
- Includes a computer lab with 30 workstations, more workspace and offices for CSU's academic staff.

In 1998, Colorado State enhanced its weight room and built an academic center as part of the McGraw Athletic Center project, but these facilities no longer met the needs of its expanded student-athlete base, nor did they allow the Rams to compete for top-quality recruits.

Because of the heavy time constraints placed on CSU student-athletes through practice, travel, strength and conditioning, and community service, a quality learning environment is essential for the university's student-athletes to achieve the high standards of academic success expected of them.

The Academic and Training Center is the latest centerpiece for CSU's athletic program and supports its mission to recruit, educate, develop, and graduate Rams student-athletes within an environment that prusues excellence, values integrity and ethical conduct, promotes respect for all individuals, teaches sportsmanship, entertains our constituents and emphasizes championship performance.

The McGraw Athletic Center (right), which was built in 1998 and houses the CSU athletic department, is now accompanied by a pair of new, state-of-the-art facilities: the Academic & Training Center (top) and the Indoor Practice Facility (opposite). Both facilities were shown off at the grand opening celebration on Sept. 18, 2009.

New Indoor Practice Facility

Every CSU program will benefit from the Rams' new facilities. The Indoor Practice Facility is used by all of the Rams' sports teams, whether they are in season or involved in offseason conditioning.

Cost: $13 million
Size: 66,267 square feet, including 48,125 dedicated to the football portion and 8,827 to the basketball and volleyball areas
Height: 65 feet at its tallest point
Location: East of Moby Pool and north of the Student Recreation Center

Features:

- Gymnasium easily encloses a regulation basketball court and two half courts.
- Volleyball configuration can accommodate two full-length courts.
- Contains a 70-yard synthetic-turf football field (including one end zone).
- Features a four-lane, 70-meter track and a unique shoe-changing room adjacent to the football field.
- Has flexibility to allow the softball team to set up batting cages on the football field.
- Will provide shelter for any student-athlete in each of the Rams' 16 varsity sports.
- Includes training room, equipment storage, lobby and trophy display case, and rest-rooms.
- Uses an innovative air circulation system.

Paul Kowalczyk

Director of Athletics | Kent State (1980, '86) | Fifth Year at CSU

Director of Athletics Paul Kowalczyk has placed Colorado State's program on an ambitious path toward national prominence with his insightful and visionary leadership. Kowalczyk is in his fourth year leading CSU's program. From the moment he arrived on campus, he has shown a leadership style that is steady and consistent with ambitious goals clearly established. Under his watchful eye, a foundation has been built to cultivate long-term success throughout the program. With the foundation firmly in place, Colorado State's program stands on the threshold of taking a bold step forward nationally to reach "stretch goals" implemented by the Board of Governors when Kowalczyk arrived.

Perhaps nothing better illustrates the progress toward prominence that CSU's program has made during Kowalczyk's tenure than the changing skyline surrounding Moby Arena and the McGraw Athletic Center, both of which serve as centerpieces of the athletics department.

During the summer of 2009, CSU opened two state-of-the-art athletics facilities that are visually prominent to any avid Rams fan upon arriving on campus.

A training facility includes an indoor football practice field plus basketball and volleyball practice courts, adjacent to Moby Arena. Also, a new academic and strength and conditioning center is next to the McGraw Athletic Center.

Over the last year-plus, Kowalczyk also has stewarded significant upgrades to Sonny Lubick Field at Hughes Stadium, including a $2.5 million landscaping initiative following the 2010 season that will make the venue's grounds at the base of the Rocky Mountain foothills even more attractive. Additionally in the last two years, Kowalczyk oversaw improvements to several CSU team locker rooms, and this fall, has spearheaded a $1 million project that will furnish Moby Arena with new state-of-the-art video boards.

The two new facilities, along with upgrades to CSU's stadium, arena and McGraw Athletic Center offices, make CSU's resources among the finest in the nation. Those additions and improvements also have made CSU competitive nationally while enhancing the institution's image across a broad spectrum. The facilities represent one of Kowalczyk's primary goals when he was appointed to his position at CSU. Almost immediately upon his arrival, he worked closely with campus leaders to develop the facilities initiative.

"These buildings show that Colorado State is unmistakably serious about achieving its stretch goals," Kowalczyk said. "Combined with the recent renovations at our football stadium, this puts us where we need to be in terms of offering quality, state-of-the-art facilities for our coaches and student-athletes, those who are here now and those who are thinking about coming here."

Soon after Kowalczyk's arrival in Fort Collins, he worked closely with the Board of Governors of the Colorado State University System and the university leadership to set in place a set of "stretch goals." "The support of the board and campus administration, who were there every step of the way, was critical," Kowalczyk said. "We have leadership on this campus that not only recognizes the importance of investing in athletics, but also what a successful athletics department can do for the university."

Colorado State's stretch goals include:

- Achieve a No. 1 ranking in the Director's Cup, a ranking system that reflects overall program success;
- Annual Bowl Championship Series inclusion;

- NCAA men's and women's basketball tournament participation.

While the entire program under Kowalczyk's guidance has moved forward with the completion of the facilities, he readily admits there are more challenges that lie ahead.

"We will never stand still. We will continue to move forward. As a program, we will strive for excellence in every area, just as we challenge our student-athletes in competition and in the classroom.

"Our efforts will always include continually and diligently working to expand our ticket and Ram Club donor base as a means to generate additional revenue and scholarship fund support."

Colorado State's expected emergence nationally has provided followers of the program optimism and excitement.

Kowalczyk brought a wealth of experience and knowledge to Fort Collins when he was named the school's 16th Director of Athletics on April 11, 2006, after having served for six successful years in the same capacity at Southern Illinois University.

In the spring of 2008, he was named to the prestigious NCAA Division I Leadership Council, an advisory body to the Division I Board of Directors. The council identifies issues important to the future of Division I and offers its expertise in defining appropriate action items.

Kowalczyk also remains involved in NCAA, NACDA and MWC activities.

During his tenure at SIU, he led the Salukis' emergence into a successful, nationally renowned athletics program, including 15 conference championships in seven sport programs.

Before his tenures at CSU and SIU, he was senior administrator at Northwestern University during a time in which the Wildcats program enjoyed national success. He also served as assistant athletics director for business operations at Kansas State, business manager for athletics at Portland State, and assistant to the associate athletics director at Kent State.

Kowalczyk holds a master's degree in sports administration and a bachelor's of business administration in accounting from Kent State University.

A native of Warren Ohio, Kowalczyk was inducted into the Warren High School Distinguished Hall of Fame. The award recognizes and honors individuals for their achievements and performance. In 2004, he received the National Football Foundation's Gen. Robert R. Neyland Outstanding A.D. Award, and in 2006 was named the Athletic Director of the Year for the Division I-AA Central Division. Kowalczyk is also in the midst of serving a four-year term on the NACDA Executive Council, representing District 7.

He is married to Peg Lynch Kowalczyk.

Angie Hopkins

Head Coach | Ninth Year at CSU | New Mexico (1998)

Head Coach Angie Hopkins is in her ninth year at Colorado State, and in her time at CSU she has vastly improved the women's golf program. The team has gone from having three top 5 finishes in 2002-03 to six top 5 finishes in 2003-

04 to having a record-setting seven top 5 finishes in 2004-05. During the 2008-09 season, Coach Hopkins earned her second MWC Coach of the Year honor. She also led the team to setting a new school record with a three-round team score of 869 at the Las Vegas Collegiate Showdown. Hopkins and the women's golf team are dedicated to breaking even more records during the 2010-11 season.

Hopkins joined the Rams from the University of New Mexico, where she was an assistant golf coach at her alma mater since 1999. As an assistant, Hopkins helped lead New Mexico to three Mountain West Conference team championships as well as three NCAA West Regional appearances. In her four years as an assistant, Hopkins had the opportunity to work with two All-Americans, eight all-conference selections, five academic All-Americans and eight academic all-conference selections. Along with her coaching experience, Hopkins is an eight-year member of the LPGA Teaching and Club Division. After passing the final written test in June 2007, she is an LPGA Class A teaching professional. She was named LPGA Central Section Coach of the Year in 2006. Hopkins also completed a three-year term on the NGCA Awards Selection Committee in 2007.

To continue the success at Colorado State, Hopkins' focus is on recruiting student-athletes who will excel in the classroom as well as on the golf course. In the last three years she has coached ten academic All-Americans and 19 academic all-conference players.

Coaching Accomplishments:

- Was named MWC Coach of the Year for the 2008-09 season
- Was named MWC Co-Coach of the Year for the 2004-05 season
- At CSU has coached 12 academic All-Americans including Melissa Martin and Stefanie Ferguson in 2009 and 21 MWC academic all-conference selections including Martin, Ferguson and Brianna Espinoza in 2009
- At CSU coached five MWC all-conference players, including Claussen in 2009
- Coached Lynette Duran who was selected in 2005 for the MWC Sportsmanship Award
- The CSU women's golf team has posted the highest cumulative team GPA in the athletic department in 2001, 2004 and 2008-09
- Then-freshmen Brianna Espinoza and Melissa Martin finished in the Top 10 at the MWC Championship in 2009
- Coached the Rams to their first tournament victory in two years at the 2004 Ptarmigan Ram Fall Classic, at which they won by 26 shots
- In 2005, qualified for the NCAA West Regional for the first time since 2002
- The Fall 2004 season was the best start since 1990 with the Rams placing in the Top 5 in four out of five tournaments
- 2008-09 team set a new school record for Three-Round Team Score of 869 at the Las Vegas Collegiate Showdown. Kasey Claussen tied the single round school record of 67 at the New Mexico State Tournament
- 2004-05 team broke many records including the best tournament

Coaching and Playing Experience:

- Played four years at the University of New Mexico
- Was a part of two WAC team championships and two NCAA championship appearances, including an eighth-place finish in 1998
- Assistant women's golf coach at the University of New Mexico, 1999-2002
- Currently is a seven-year member of the LPGA Teaching and Club Division and a 10-year member of the National Golf Coaches Association team score, top NCAA tournament performances, top single season team scoring average and best career stroke per round average

- In 2009 the team moved from 82nd to 63rd in the national Golf-week rankings
- Senior Kasey Claussen improved her competitive stroke average from 78.41 her freshman year to 75.14 in the 2008-09 season. Senior Natalie Stone improved her competitive stroke average from 80.43 her freshman year to 76.85 in the 2008-09 season. Graduated senior Stefanie Ferguson improved from a 79.93 to a 76.36.
- In 2004 started the CSU Birdie Club, a booster club specifically for the CSU women's golf program. To date there are over 85 members.
- In 2004, started the CSU women's golf invitational, a fundraising women's only golf tournament in support of the CSU women's golf team. The tournament is a way for the team to interact with the women golfers of the community. Over 300 women have participated in this fun event.
- The Ptarmigan Ram Fall Classic is in its 12th year. Hopkins, along with the Ptarmigan Committee, hosts this prestigious women's collegiate tournament in September every year.
- In 2007, Hopkins was a part of the grand opening of the Harmony Center. This million-dollar facility, located in Timnath, Colo., includes three hitting bays, an indoor putting green, coaches' offices and luxury locker rooms.

Assistant Coach | First Year at CSU | Colorado State ('82)

Susan Jennings is in her first year as assistant coach at Colorado State.

While she may be new to the coaching staff, Jennings is not new to the CSU women's golf program. Jennings was a standout on the women's golf team at Colorado State from 1978-82.

While on the team, Jennings placed first in the Kansas State Tournament in 1979, third in the BYU Invitational in 1979 and second in the BYU Invitational in 1981. In both 1980 and 1981, Jennings won the Intermountain Regional championship. She set competitive records at multiple golf courses in Northern Colorado and received the CSU Virginia K. Frank Scholar Athlete Award in 1981. In 1999, Jennings was inducted into the Colorado State University Sports Hall of Fame.

After an incredible career at CSU, Jennings became the golf coach at Skyline High School in Longmont, Colo., from 2000-10. Under Jennings, the team captured five 5A Colorado high school championship titles with the most recent being in 2009. The team also captured five 5A Northern regional championship titles. Jennings was named Coach of the Year by the Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News in 2002, 2004 and 2009. Jennings was also the Northern Conference Coach of the Year in 2006, 2007, 2008 and 2009.

Jennings holds a degree in physical education. Her husband, Barry, is the PGA golf professional at Fox Hill Country Club in Longmont, Colo. Her daughter, Stephanie, is a TCU graduate and her son, Cory, attends CSU.

With three returning golfers, four incoming freshmen and a new assistant coach, the CSU women's golf team is ready for an exciting season.

"The 2010 spring season was one to remember," said Head Coach Angie Hopkins, who is in her ninth year at CSU. "The team peaked at the right time and we were rewarded with an NCAA regional bid at the end of the year. Playing the West Regional at Stanford was a great experience for the entire team. It gave the seniors plenty of memories and the young returners a chance to see what Division I golf is all about."

Returning to the course for the Rams are junior Brianna Espinoza and sophomores Emily Roering and Cecilie Krefting.

New additions to the team include freshmen Sarah Roering from Minnewaska, Minn., Betsy Kelly from Forest Lake, Minn., Christina Spinzig from Evergreen, Colo., and Allie VenJohn from Kearney, Neb.

Jennings, a former Ram, has also joined the team as the new assistant coach. Jennings was a CSU women's golf standout from 1978-82.

"All in all, the 2009-10 season will go down in the record books and we look forward to breaking new records in the future," said Hopkins.

The CSU women's golf team added an exciting element in 2007-08 with the addition of a state-of-the-art indoor practice facility.

Recognized as one of the top golf facilities in the country in the Sept. 6, 2008, issue of Golfweek, the new Harmony Center, located in Timnath, Colo., is a 2,600-square-foot complex. It includes three hitting bays that can be opened to hit onto the driving range or closed to hit into a net. The facility is also equipped with an indoor putting green, coaches' offices and luxury locker rooms.

The facility is surrounded by a private short-game practice area complete with two greens, bunkers, and plenty of chipping and pitching areas. Harmony Golf Club also features an 18-hole golf course designed by CSU alum Jim Engh.

Engh and Byron Collins, a fellow alum and owner of the club, were instrumental in the creation of this million-dollar facility.

CSU Women's Golf Invitational

The CSU Women's Golf Invitational is a golf tournament for women in support of the CSU women's golf team. It is a great opportunity for the women golfers of Northern Colorado to get to know the women's golf team. It provides a unique setting for the team to network with women golfers from the Fort Collins community and surrounding areas. The 2010 event was hosted at the prestigious Fort Collins Country Club, and over 80 women participated in the event. With the support of these ladies and our corporate sponsors the Women's Golf Team raised over $15,000 in 2010.
