Cyberinfrastructure 2010 in the Rockies: A Human-Centered Program

August 13, 2010
West Ballroom, Lory Student Center at Colorado State University
See http://www.map.colostate.edu/ for a map of the CSU campus
See https://wiki.internet2.edu/confluence/display/cidays/Home/ for all CI Days events

8:30–9:00 Registration and coffee

9:00-9:15 Welcome, review agenda, introduce sponsors, logistics – Jeff Bullington, CSU

9:15–9:45 Importance of CyberInfrastructure, role of CI Days – Russ Hobby, Internet2

9:45–10:30 Data Curation and Digital Repositories Panel: Mary Marlino, UCAR; Greg Newman, NREL; Jessica Colati, Colorado Alliance. Chair: Dawn Paschal, CSU

10:30-10:45 Break

10:45–11:00 ISTeC Collaboration Model – Abell Distinguished Professor H.J. Siegel, CSU

11:00–12:00 Adopting Open Access Practices for your Research; KU's Path to Open Access
– Town Peterson, Professor of Ecology & Evolutionary Biology, Univ. of Kansas

12:00- 12:45 Lunch (box lunches, selections identified on ID badges)

12:45-1:45 The Unreasonable Effectiveness of Open Access
– John Wilbanks, Vice President of Science Commons

1:45-2:00 Instructions for group work (areas identified on ID badges) – Jeff Bullington

2:00–3:00 Group work, breakout sessions by topics, and facilitators

1. Why not the Google Cloud?
   – Alan Charnes, The Alliance

2. Working across boundaries/human dimensions: models for collaboration
   – H. J. Siegel, ISTeC

3. What? There are still libraries buying print books, or why does anyone under the age of 30 still visit a library, or will my great grand-daughter have access to my articles?
   – George Machovec, The Alliance

4. What's happening at your institution regarding Open Access, or Open Access or opening a can of worms?
   – Town Peterson, KU

5. IT and Libraries: operational paradigms and requirements
   – Jeff Bullington, CSU

6. Copyright and Intellectual Property: The future of scholarly communications?
   – Dawn Paschal, CSU

3:00-3:20 Break and transition back to large group (Facilitators and Scribes prepare reports)

3:20-4:00 Reports from breakout sessions (back in the West Ballroom)

4:00-4:30 Wrap-up – Russ Hobby, Internet2

4:30-5:30 Ice cream social and networking