

P591-421-4815 FLAMING GORGE UNIT - COLORADO RIVER STORAGE
PROJECT - UTAH-WYOMING

(40) Aerial view looking downstream at Flaming Gorge (scenic landmark through which the Green River passes). "Flaming Gorge" marks the beginning of the "Red Canyon", 30 miles (navigable water) of towering red walls, covered with trees and vegetation, abounding with deer and other wildlife. The reservoir being formed by Flaming Gorge Dam makes this area usable by power boats at all times previously seen only by boatmen on rubber rafts or from the canyon walls.

5/28/63 Bureau of Reclamation photo by F. B. Slote