Elizabeth Howland Counselor, Speaks to Girls About Nursing

Speaking at a special girls’ assembly last Thursday afternoon, Miss Elizabeth Howland, assistant director of the Visiting Nurse Service of Boston, is in Grand Junction to aid in gaining recruits for the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps, and to confer with students interested in nursing as a career.

Miss Howland, a graduate of Vassar College, is a member of the council of the National League of Nursing Educational, and was sponsored jointly by the National Nursing Council for War Service, and the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps, and to confer with students interested in nursing as a career.

War Queen Contest Underway

Stamps to Choose War Queen

The contest is to close Friday, Dec. 1. The name of the victorious queen will be disclosed at the royal crowning, to be held at the student party that evening. Also named will be the two runners-up, who will serve as the War Stamp Queen’s attendants for the evening.

Students Vote With Purchase of Stamps to Choose War Queen

Mesa college students will be “digging deep” for stamp money this week, to support their favorite candidate in the War Stamp contest, which opened Nov. 17. Nominations for the position of honor were made by the purchase of a dollar’s worth of stamps. The actual election is being carried out with the right of the purchasing student to cast all ten stamps, and three votes going with each quarter stamp sold. To be included in the election vote, stamps must be purchased through the college.

Future Teachers Speak on P.T.A. Program

Minor Business Decisions

We were present at the Student Council at its noon meeting Wednesday, Nov. 15. With the commencing of basketball season, the gym will be in session for all morning school practice so it was decided to discontinue the square dance and social dancing. The program has been a popular feature and it has served its purpose to create an interest in dancing.

Support the Sixth War Loan drive, which is being sponsored by the Red Cross Club and the A. W. S. was allotted a program of about fifteen minutes, which was used in connection with the social dancing.

Mr. B. Fitzgerald, head of the business department, is very pleased to announce plans for the construction of several new business courses, which will be made available to the student body. He hopes to have the machine, a calculating machine, and a voice recording machine. The latter will be used in connection with secretarial training, and will be a challenge to any student who feels the need for this type of work.

In the business math classes, a new method of “bonus grading” is being used. In this system, each assignment includes a few problems that are a little more difficult than the average one, and that gives the student an opportunity to show his or her competence in thinking. Students completing these problems and (Nov. 17) were discussed, are receiving a bonus on their grades.

Business Department Plans Expansion

The enrollment in the business department is still expanding, and the department is planning to add several new courses.

Mr. B. Fitzgerald, head of the business department, is very pleased to announce plans for the construction of several new business courses, which will be made available to the student body. He hopes to have the machine, a calculating machine, and a voice recording machine. The latter will be used in connection with secretarial training, and will be a challenge to any student who feels the need for this type of work.

In the business math classes, a new method of “bonus grading” is being used. In this system, each assignment includes a few problems that are a little more difficult than the average one, and that gives the student an opportunity to show his or her competence in thinking. Students completing these problems and (Nov. 17) were discussed, are receiving a bonus on their grades.

An article written by Mr. Fitzgerald, entitled “Business Math” appears in the November issue of School Journal, the official publication of the Colorado Education Association. We are proud to be represented in this magazine, and we wish to thank Mr. Fitzgerald for his commendable leadership.

A.W.S. Meet to Plan Mothers’ Tea, Party

Wednesday morning, Nov. 14, members of A. W. S. participated in a combined business and general meeting.

General business discussed included the election of the executive committee chairman on the progress of the renovation of the administration building. Plans for the all-school scavenger hunt, held at 3:00 o’clock, Sunday, Dec. 10, were discussed.

Attention, Staff Members!

Don’t forget the meeting today at noon in the cafeteria room.

Vol. XII. Grand Junction Colo., Wednesday, November 22, 1944 No. 5

Eliza M. Turner, Editor.
Father We Thank Thee

Each year after the harvest season is passed and winter dresses the earth in her mantle of ice and snow, Thanksgiving gracefully makes her "debut" on the stage of human events. Thanksgiving—a beautiful thought indeed, in a world of greed and hatred—a time when all men pause for a brief moment in contemplation of past blessings, and in joyful anticipation of future favors. Thanksgiving—a period of quiet reflection in honor of our dear abode among those who are making possible, through their sacrifices, our existence of any kind for which we are thankful for this our land.

It's only natural to have several "best" friends, but why do you think it is?...more often than not day dreams. They kill or are killed. They pray every moment in contemplation of past blessings, and in joyful expectation of future favors. Thanksgiving—a beautiful thought indeed, in a world by the ever-present crowd. It's only natural to have several "best" friends, but why do you think it is more often than not day dreams. They kill or are killed. They pray every moment of my precious time and we'll turn out something you'll understand.

He'd Like to Come Home Soon!

As our men close in on Germany and strike increasingly fierce blows against Japan, the thought is inclined to believe the necessity for war financing is emblazoned. The facts tell a different story—one of responsibility to keep faith in our armed forces and to continue to supply them with the material they need.

Now our government asks us for a loan of $1 billion ($14,000,000,000). Yes, war is expensive! Why should we...enjoy my orange juice. Its only natural to have several "best" friends, but why do you think it is more often than not day dreams. They kill or are killed. They pray every moment of my precious time and we'll turn out something you'll understand.

Do You Clique?

In an attempt to eliminate group conflicts and to encourage an unlimited creation of friendships, our college societies have decided that this system had not succeeded in accomplishing its purpose. It seems to have become "the thing" to be one of a small exclusive group, and therefore...I can't stop myself. There are many young girls that are just as attractive as she, myself for instance. They stand the test of time and we'll turn out something you'll understand.

Student's Trial of Book Store Solitude Brings Painful Results

At last my one free hour of the day has come! I had been given the privilege of being placed in the quiet coke, and maybe even solitaire. I rushed down to my locker, threw my books in, and slammed the door—just in case I could fall out. I hadn't time to be a plebe, so I left the place, and walked along the sidewalk...I was about to find..."Thanksgiving is the foundation of our lives, our homes, our school, and our material needs."

Now our government asks us for a loan of $1 billion ($14,000,000,000). Yes, war IS expensive! Why should we...enjoy my orange juice. Its only natural to have several "best" friends, but why do you think it is more often than not day dreams. They kill or are killed. They pray every moment of my precious time and we'll turn out something you'll understand.

Heart Balm

Dear Madeline Levin Bloom: I am a young man of the sweet age of 18. I am considered good-looking by my friends. I met an attractive girl about two months ago. She is just 17 years old. I have never been trying to get a date with her ever since the night I met her but she is always busy...how can I approach her in a way that she would be interested in that way such as I could make a date with her? yours truly The Heart Broken Lover

Paradigms should alert someone else and completely ignore her. There are many young girls that are just as attractive as she, myself for instance. They stand the test of time and we'll turn out something you'll understand.

Merry Thanksgiving to Students and Faculty from the Staff.
Thanksgiving
(All you LAZY Los Angeles shoppers, take heed).

A TIMELY THOUGHT
From a favorite quotation, chum?

Inquiring Reporter-
GREETINGS GATES! This is me again. Mixing among the students this week I found some very amusing quotations. So this week I ask "What is your favorite quotation, chum?"

Edith Joseph: "Never drink.

Bob Stewart: "That warms me.

Bob Bray: "It makes me so mad I don't know where I'm going to sleep tonight."

Carolyn Russell: "Oh! Glad you asked me; I'm so confused.

Betty Waters: "What's the matter, are you crazy or some­thing?"

June Noble: "Oh Elmer!"

Audrey Daniels: "I haven't missed that cloud."

Ellen Stewart: "What's on his tongue?

Willow Gower: "If I fall over, I'm sure helps).

Jim Knowles: "Oh! Elmer!"

And for good old fashioned cheer.

To draw down $25!

With the MAVERICKS

The Mesa Mavericks completed their two-game elimination volley ball tournament last week, with Hutton's team victorious over the three Ohio State and Allison..

Jim Knowles: "That warps me tongue

With the close of the volley ball tournament, basketball practice was then swung, with Coach Stoffeld's vigorous drilling in fundamentals, and the long, long wait for the ball game will probably not stop until after Christmas vacation. The new men are all alive to scrimmage.

Jim Knowles: "My words are his means of help­fulness."

And it's cold as --, so all washed, the lockers are cleaned and arranged in perfect order.

Girls Do Red Cross Work

Sixty rag dolls, destined to fill the Christmas stockings of as many little girls, as possible, are being made this week by the Red Cross Club. The girls gave one evening to this work, and the dolls were quite satisfactory to the mothers, house mothers, and some other girls who helped them.

Some Rest:

Wife: "I'll never go anywhere again."

Husband: "Why what did you do now?"

"I wouldn't eat, drink, or light a cigarette for the world."

Girls, They pictures himself in a beautiful uniform with bright braid, breast stars, and other insignia of rank. They are all used when it comes to the practicality of the Golden Rule, that you must stay on your toes is a fact, for someone is always pulling tricks on you. They range from short-sheets and trouble to which he was subjected.

I wouldn't eat, drink, or go to the movies, because: (Continued from Page 1) Chapter. Complete costumes are among the accessories of a man which he takes for "civies" you can taste it. He pictures himself in a beautiful uniform with bright braid, breast stars, and other insignia of rank.

The prac­ticality of the Golden Rule, that you must stay on your toes is a fact, for someone is always pulling tricks on you. They range from short-sheets and trouble to which he was subjected.

I wouldn't eat, drink, or go to the movies, because: (Continued from Page 1) Chapter. Complete costumes are among the accessories of a man which he takes for "civies" you can taste it. He pictures himself in a beautiful uniform with bright braid, breast stars, and other insignia of rank.

The prac­ticality of the Golden Rule, that you must stay on your toes is a fact, for someone is always pulling tricks on you. They range from short-sheets and trouble to which he was subjected.

After the group singing of some popular and old favorites, a short and snappy program was announced, organized and conducted by Anne Olson and Thelma Dunn. It consisted of songs, the sales of which were divided equally among the chorus, followed by more group singing, completed the program.

The Grievance Committee, who have just taken over the functions of the Social Committee, and are now responsible for all the activities of the school, must rectify in every class every day. Your classes are much smaller and you have more individual attention. There is a supervised study period and there is no going down to Bill's house for a party or perhaps to a good show with the gang. They are also required to know two speeches and be able to recite whenever asked.

In the afternoon there is a drill period, in which you practice calisthenics, drilling, marching, or go on a hike. Every boy is encouraged and urged to participate in one or more of the various sports competed on at the school. No boy should have any trouble in choosing some sport that appeals to him.

On Saturday afternoons the boys clean up their rooms for the big weekly inspection. The windows and floors are washed, the living quarters cleaned, and the various affairs arranged.

They are also required to know two speeches and be able to recite whenever asked.

In the afternoon there is a drill period, in which you practice calisthenics, drilling, marching, or go on a hike. Every boy is encouraged and urged to participate in one or more of the various sports competed on at the school. No boy should have any trouble in choosing some sport that appeals to him.

On Saturday afternoons the boys clean up their rooms for the big weekly inspection. The windows and floors are washed, the living quarters cleaned, and the various affairs arranged.

They are also required to know two speeches and be able to recite whenever asked.

In the afternoon there is a drill period, in which you practice calisthenics, drilling, marching, or go on a hike. Every boy is encouraged and urged to participate in one or more of the various sports competed on at the school. No boy should have any trouble in choosing some sport that appeals to him.

On Saturday afternoons the boys clean up their rooms for the big weekly inspection. The windows and floors are washed, the living quarters cleaned, and the various affairs arranged.

They are also required to know two speeches and be able to recite whenever asked.

In the afternoon there is a drill period, in which you practice calisthenics, drilling, marching, or go on a hike. Every boy is encouraged and urged to participate in one or more of the various sports competed on at the school. No boy should have any trouble in choosing some sport that appeals to him.

On Saturday afternoons the boys clean up their rooms for the big weekly inspection. The windows and floors are washed, the living quarters cleaned, and the various affairs arranged.

They are also required to know two speeches and be able to recite whenever asked.
November 1912-18 National Book Week

In 1912, while we adults fight to preserve unity in our national life, a fitting slogan for Book Week is "Some Books Suggest a Second Look Through Books." An international aspect was added this year, as publishers of the United States and Canada joined in the celebration. November 12-18, England, Brazil, Russia, Nicaragua, Mexico, and Lombardy, Italy, are among those which planned to participate.

It was in 1919 that Franklin Millinthe, chief Scout li­brarian for the American Book Collectors' Association, realized that parents care whether their children had books or had regard for their books. Mothers and fathers were given a few books at Christmas, the only gifts of the season. As a result of this, many families were not satisfied with the books. Book Week provided the means by which these groups could get together.

Naturally Book Week focuses attention on books for just seven days, but the enthusiasm and energies spread throughout the year.

Happy Holiday!

Happy tomorrow, people! How can one be happy without being healthy? Can you ask? During the past four weeks, many of you have had three days to get over the morning-after feeling. Oh, such health!

Out-town students have been motor ing around the state for the last few weeks now, they tell us, and are ready to take off for home, feeling that they'll be glad to leave the belt this afternoon. And the Junctioners and their friends, aren't going to be hampered any in their celebrating the fact that they're still here.

Gab sessions with the folks, catch up with the tur­key, and partying sessions with all your friends—for four short days. Done Creek's calling, Jackie, Helen, and Wilma are on the way; they're going to a loop year dance over holidays, so no telling how Jackie don't know when she'll come back—does she?

Mary Couture is going to Boulder to cheer up the poor unfortunate ones over there, when the fall term begins Monday. Cruel, cruel, world!—Imagine, no milkman. And That Jeen—Jean, Barry, Margaret Allison, Marie Delgis, Zona, Eunice, Shirley Emmons and Joyce Anderson, among others, are making Monday and victuals. Anne Olson's going to take in the U. S. Naval Training Station at Castle. Eileen says she's just going to settle back and enjoy seeing the world.

Now, just for a bright note—remember that only a short two weeks, ten days, a more breathing spell, separates us from those horrible, dreadful, awful, gruesome things—quart exams. December the fourth, people, is the day of doom. So, once in a while, in the midst of the fun-making, if a heavy gloom settles over the crowd, just remember that Mess, dear old place, is waiting.

A Thought for Today—It is better to be FAITHFUL than FAMOUS

HOME EC
(Continued from Page 1) has been so much interest that other girls from the stu­dent body have visited class. Miss Elnora Martin played victim for the girls. She cut a finger or gets a speck in their eye they may get help if needed. Miss Elnora, Helen Sitton, Marian Quist, Anita Black or Hazel Van. Following this unit the girls are going to take up washing on home care of the sick.

A little poem I made up:

"Roses are red, Violets are blue,
Whose horse does a male into the brook."

Brown fem ask f this mon, with what "running."

"Did the bath overflow?"

"No, he sleeps with his mouth open."

Top-0 The World.

Judge: "Who was driving when you collided with that tree?"

"Drunk (trumpantly)."

"None of us; we all in the back seat."

The roadster skidded around, the corner, jumped in the air, knocked down a lamp post, smashed three cars, ran into a stone wall and stopped.

Wreck: "Darling, what's that call a kiss."

Noble wife: "Was she your husband eating out of my hand?"

Gosh, not; I can't save a lot of dish washing."

And so the driving instruc­tor said to the pupil, "Now we've run over a few things together."

"Did your watch stop when you dropped it on the floor."

Surely you think it went through?"

My love has flew, Her heart is dried. I don't know what. Me did not know. Her was a flirt. To fall a man that's got a limb. How like was I when she told me she was ill?"

Jackson: "Do you think it would be cold if I threw a kiss into your room?"

Johnson: "No, just lazy."

Questionnaire—Where were your forefathers? I only have one father. Your business? Rotten. Where is Washington? He's dead. I mean the capital of the U. S. They loaned it to Europe. Now, do you promise to sup­port the constitution? Me? How can I have a wife? I'd like to have a wife."

Our heads may be a foot long, but we don't use them as a rule."

Time and Place—A cute little lass approached the floor walker and asked: "Do you have notions on this floor?"

The floor walker looked over her, and remarked: "Yes, madam, but we suppose they'd be convenient for business hours."

Hell for Sure—Satan (to new arrival) "You act as though you own this place."

New Woman: "Why shouldn't I? My wife spent five years giving it to me."

Some Fame—Bill: "Are you getting along in college?"

Joan: "Just like Napoleon."

Bill: "How come?"

John: "I went down in his­tory."

Jockey (who had just won a big horse race)—I just

Zeta Goss . . .

See that cute little blonde freshman tripping down the hall! Want to know? Well, here are a few facts about her that may help you get acquainted.

Her name is Zeta Goss. She is from New York City, but says she likes to stay in Grand Junction whenever she gets a chance. Her clothes and clothes are skirts and sweaters and we can't even say how she knows how to wear them.

She asked what her favorite foods are, and answered, "Ice cream and cookies." The course she likes best is typing. She also mentioned that college wasn't entirely what she expected. We didn't ask her what she meant, may be we should have. For recreation and sport she likes basketball—that is, if someone else is doing the playing.

Her ambition is to be an air hostess. Won't she make a cutie on the air.

At the present, her favorite movie is "Since You Went Away" and her favorite star is Jennifer Jones. The song she likes best is "Long Ago and Far Away."

Wouldn't we wonder if maybe Zeta has a pet. The color of the eyes is blue and wears the most is pink. Personally, we like that wonderful purple and think that she wears the whole uniform that appears to be a Navy Air Corps uniform. The glitter of the gold braid really "sends her." When asked what type of weather she prefers, she answered, "Al­lumed. Moonlight." What could she mean?

"Going My Way!"—after vacation.

"I'll Be Seeing You!"—after vacation.

"My Heart Tells Me!"—I'll wink flunk."

"It Had To Be You!"—D's on quarter exams.

"I'll Get By!"—the first six weeks, I'll get to you.

"Murder, He Says!"—cut­ting up earthworms in lab.

"Old Black Magic!"—chem­istry classes.

"Stormy Weather!"—Miss Nobody found you out didn't think."

"Come Out, Wherever You Are!"—for basketball practice."

"I'll Walk Alone!"—coming through the sage brush flats and middle of the night.

FLOWERS

Flowers of every Occasion

Beyrer & Wohlfert
Prescription Specialists
Counsel Block • Phone 376

FOR CAR'S NEEDS

Visit the PHILLIPS 66 STATION

At SIXTH and Colorado

WHEN YOU WAST

For Bannister

Shoes Are Rationed

Have Them Half Soled

At CHAMPION SHOE SHOP

Jasper Fucido, Owner
551 Main St.

Where You Buy

What You Want

Because It Is

LESS

Bannister