Earth Day Needs Year-Round Support

Save the Earth was the cry last Thursday, April 22. Many people walked or rode bikes, and some even flew kites to at least walk a block or two due to the closed parking lots.

Every day to many people was a one-day-year, not just going to church is a once a year thing on Easter Sunday to many Christians.

The idea behind Earth Day was to educate the general public and to improve them for the other 364 days in that year. Earth Day to many, however, is simply a day to dress up in Earth Day.

DECA Students Gain Honors At Convention

Eleven students represented Mesa College at a two-day state DECA Conference which was held in Colorado Springs, April 17-18. The purpose of the conference was to exchange ideas with some of the top-notch business men in the United States.

Contents held in management decision-making, market to the delegates’ ability to respond spontaneously to a management decision-making problem. Judging was done by the leaders of the business world in all areas of marketing.

Chris Hollingsworth, Mesa DECA president, took honors by placing in the human relations division of the contest.

Darwin Richardson, Mesa DECA vice-president, placed in the retailing division of the contest, and also was elected as State Publicity Director for 1971-72.

Work Study To Suffer Funds Cut

The Colorado association of Financial Aids officer met in La Junta on April 7, 8, 9. The result of the meeting was an immediate cut in Work study funds from July 1 of one half and a further cut of two thirds. The National Financial Aids officers met in Chicago to exchange ideas with some of the top business men in the United States.

The move came when the Federal legislature did not appropriate the funds for the program. Mr. Smock (Financial Aids officer) who attended the meeting said the immediate result would be a cut in Work Study of one half and a further cut of two thirds.

The federal loan and the Educational Opportunity Act will face serious cuts in the ’71-72 year.

The move when the Federal legislature did not appropriate the funds for the program. Mr. Smock reported that when the funds have not been appropriated in the past the colleges could rely on the funds from July 1 - Sept. 30. In this case however, the law which authorizes the bills will expire June 30.

Mesa receives the funds for the Work Study projects, but have not been used. The money which will be received June 30 will be one third of what was anticipated. Mesa had no choice but to use the financial squeeze on to the students.

"Hello, Dolly."" to be given May 16, 17, 18, 7 p.m. in Walter Walker Little Theatre, is a musical based on Thornton Wilder's "The Matchmaker." The final play of the season will be presented by both the drama and music departments.

Tickets are now on sale in the drama department box office. Tickets are $1.50 or 25¢ for matinees with 40¢.

The birth of "Hello, Dolly." began in London in 1935, it was based on the story of a shrewed matchmaker who trickily clasps onto her most eligible clients for herself and was called "The Matchmaker." The play was presented to the International Drama Festival, at Edinburgh, Scotland, Ruth Gordon portrayed Dolly in this 1954 presentation, and it was a smash hit. It has been a success ever since, and played in London for eight months. In 1954, it was then opened in New York and ran for 467 performances. The von or more than 468 performances and then began its tour.

In 1963 interest in making "The Matchmaker" into a musical developed. A team of Michael Stewart, Irvreat and Gower Champion, all Broadway producers, were joined by Jerry Herman, song writer. Herman had a show ready called "Dolly." "Damed Exasperating Woman." Critics well advised them to change the name to "Hello, Dolly."

"Hello, Dolly." opened in New York in January 1964 with Carol Channing as Dolly, in the peak role of her career. It was an instantaneous hit. Critics called it the best musical of the season, little realizing that it may be recognized as the best musical of the decade.

Thousands 'Turn On' To Indian Meditation

By ANITA KIENZLE

A 5,000-year-old "drug" has been re-discovered. Among its other triumphs, it has scientifically been proven capable of lowering blood pressure, reducing heart beat rate and temperature, eliminating sleeplessness, improving creativity in work output and assisting hard drug users in quitting drugs.

The name of the wonder "drug" is transcendental meditation (TM) and is taught by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi. The author, re-discovered the meditation technique in India 10 years ago, brought it to the United States and since that time has watched it expand to include over 250,000 people in 50 countries.

On the Mesa College campus, Peter Tomson conducts instructional and practical sessions on a monthly basis for the 50 area members. Tomson studied under the Maharishi in Boulder at the University of Colorado.

Star Acker, TM area coordinator and sophomore at Mesa, claims both physical and mental improvements as a result of practicing meditation.

Acker, TM for 20 minutes twice a day, seems to have built up more energy, physically. I require less sleep, my breathing rate has slowed and I seem to have improved than I ever have. My grades have improved since I have been sick in the year since I began meditation, he said.

According to Acker, mental benefits include the natural reduction of the nervous system during meditation (similar to sleep), and the tremendous amount of energy the process affords.

Last May, William S. Robinson, drama department head, saw Miss Beatty perform at a local restaurant and asked if she would perform the Dolly role. She was able to become somewhat familiar with the facilities at Mesa since she attended last year's musical, "Oliver!"

After her performance in "Dolly, Dolly," Miss Beatty will return to her entertainment career in Denver.

Miss Louise Beatty will be the first African American to appear on Broadway in the Dolly role. She was born in Albright, West Virginia, and attended Spelman College in Atlanta, Ga., and worked toward her masters at the University of Iowa with a major in drama.

She taught as a speech instructor at Spelman and later in the Dallas public school system, organizing many of the play productions for the schools.

Since entering the professional entertainment world, Miss Beatty has appeared in many popular and well-known plays. She has also portrayed Tituba in "The Crucible," by Arthur Miller; Mrs. Gibbs in "Our Town," by Thornton Wilder; and Granny Van in Clifford Odets, "Lost Child." After moving to Denver, Miss Beatty began a career in nightclub entertaining.

Returning to Los Angeles, Miss Beatty appeared in many popular and well-known plays. She has appeared in plays such as "The Walking Corpse," "The World of Nonny H.Util," and "Auntie Mame." In "Hello Dolly," Miss Beatty will portray Dolly in the play presented by the music and drama departments.

According to Miss Beatty, she came from a very musical background, and both she and her sisters are professional performers. Miss Beatty received her B.A. degree from Spelman College in Atlanta, Ga., and attended her masters at the University of Iowa with a major in drama. Treaty Ratification Pending Election

A Joint Treaty of Peace
BETWEEN THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES, SOUTH VIETNAM & NORTH VIETNAM

Be it known that the American and Vietnamese people are not enemies. The war is carried-out in the names of the people of the United States and South Vietnam but without our consent. It destroys the land and people of Vietnam. It drains America of its resources, its youth and its honor.

We hereby agree to end the war on the following terms, so that both peoples can live under the joy of independence and can devote themselves to building a society based on human equality and respect for the earth. In rejecting the war, we also reject all forms of racism and discrimination, based on color, class, sex, national origins, and ethnic groupings, which form the basis of war policies, present and past of the United States.

I. The Americans agree to the immediate and total withdrawal from Vietnam, and publicly to set the date by which all U.S. military forces will be removed.

II. The Vietnamese pledge that as soon as the U.S. government publicly sets a date for total withdrawal, they will enter discussions to secure the release of all American prisoners, including pilots captured while bombing North Vietnam.

III. There will be an immediate cease-fire between U.S. forces and those led by the Provisional Revolutionary Government of South Vietnam.

IV. They will enter discussions on the procedures to guarantee the safety of all withdrawing troops.

V. The Americans agree to the immediate and total withdrawal from South Vietnam in order to insure their right to self-determination and so that all political prisoners can be released.

VI. The Vietnamese pledge to form a provisional coalition government to organize democratic elections. All parties agree to respect the results of elections in which all South Vietnamese can participate freely without the presence of any foreign troops.

VII. The South Vietnamese pledge to enter discussion of procedures to guarantee the safety and political freedom of those South Vietnamese who have collaborated with the U.S. or with the U.S.-supported regime.

VIII. The Americans and Vietnamese agree to respect the independence, peace and neutrality of Laos and Cambodia in accord with the 1954 and 1962 Geneva conventions and not to interfere in the internal affairs of these two countries.

IX. Upon these points of agreement, we pledge to end the war and resolve all other questions in the spirit of self-determination and mutual respect for the independence and political freedom of the people of Vietnam and the United States.

X. By ratifying this agreement, we pledge to take whatever actions are appropriate to implement the terms of this joint Treaty and to insure its acceptance by the government of the United States.

Cabinet Proposes Vote On Joint Treaty

In a special Student Cabinet meeting Thursday it was decided to hold a referendum to obtain student body reactions on a nation-wide protest planned for May 1.

At last Monday's meeting a decision was made to back the movement, giving President Nixon an ultimatum to end American involvement in Southeast Asia. The emergency meeting was called to re-define Cabinet's position in the light of new information. A motion to rescind the previous action or "wipe the slate clean" was approved.

Scott Chamberlin and John Flinn read excerpts from letters the SNA office has received listing the plans of various campaigns by youth against the war. One letter promised violence if the treaty is not signed.

Explaining why he and three other Cabinet members walked out of the April 19 meeting, David Skiles said, "It seriously hurts us that Cabinet would endorse something like this. If what we believed in is unrepresentative, then we have lost to ourselves." He added that they believe in peaceful action rather than "responses founded on emotions" and stressed the importance of regaining American prisoners first instead of abandoning them.

Patrick Sullivan moved a referendum be held to find out the students' feelings. Skiles amended this to read that both sides of the story will be publicized in advance of the election.

The motion carried.

After voicing his interest in the issue, Greg Stapels was named to head the election committee, making it student-run rather than a Cabinet project. Cabinet promised to supply Staples with necessary materials and information.

Maverick Plays In TV Baseball

Barry Lersch, a member of the 1964 Mesa College baseball team, pitched in the NBC Baseball Game of the Week Saturday April 17.

Lersch was the starting pitcher for the Philadelphia Phillies and held the Atlanta Braves scoreless for six innings. In the top of the seventh, he threw three pitches and Brave hitters rapped three home runs.

Lersch went to Mesa for only one year before signing with the Phillies. He and Mike Gendreau rapped three home runs.

According to Curt Gowdy, NBC announcer, Lersch now depends on his curve ball.
