

Rolston claims Templeton Prize

Interview, All Things Considered, Robert Siegel

NPR's Robert Siegel talks to Prof. Holmes Rolston, winner of this year's Templeton Prize for Progress Toward Research or Discoveries about Spiritual Realities. He is a Philosopher and Presbyterian Minister known as the "father of environmental ethics." Since 1975, he has been writing about the religious imperative to respect nature.

<http://www.npr.org/templates/story/story.php?storyId=1196731>