Artist Statement:

Art has been changed over the many years since its existence just as my view and work is constantly being changed as well. As my years went on in college, my art has gone from being something that I thought needed to be a specific way, to something that became more of an expression of myself. Making decisions on my ideas while pushing further to analyze the work I was putting out; learning as I went. Graphic design is my professional focus because I believe good design can help the world run smoothly. Being able to get information to a society that is so distracted is a great challenge and I enjoy it greatly. My design focus is around brand identity, apparel and logo design because I see these designs as the most used and recognizable. I love seeing my work bring joy to others through the company I made it for, or a person wearing a comfy t-shirt I designed.
