Artist Statement:

My artworks are within the dichotomy of aiming to solve problems and communicate complicated ideas with easily digestible graphics and experimenting with the fun and powerful features in Photoshop to manipulate reality and create anything I want to, usually photorealistic surrealism, scenes of the impossible make you want to look twice and ask “what's happening?” I hope for my work to draw and keep someone’s attention.

I am interested in social justice and spreading awareness of issues in the world through meaningful and symbolic design. I strive to leave an impression and give the audience a challenging idea to leave with after viewing my work.
