

Artist Statement

Katherine Warren

My interest in painting organic subjects stems from my love of nature. Everything from a snow capped mountain to a simple flower - the beauty found in nature provides endless inspiration for my work.

My art focuses on natural subjects abstracted into organic forms of bright color and flowing line. I make multiple sketches of a plant from various angles and proximities that I then layer together to form a final image. This combination of multiple aspects of the plant is a way to get a sense of a plant in its entirety, while still highlighting certain characteristics of interest.

Each plant that I choose to paint has a particular unique element that I wish to emphasize. Whether it be the papery texture of a poppy petal, or the striped patterning of a passionflower, each plant has a particular component of beauty that I bring to life.

The fluid line and saturated hues of my pieces work together to reveal the simple beauty of nature.

	Title	Media	Original Format
Image 1	Lilium martagon	Painting	24" x 36" Acrylic and Ink on Canvas
Image 2	Lophophora williamsii	Painting	20" x 20" Acrylic and Ink on Canvas
Image 3	Papver orientale	Painting	16" x 24" Acrylic and Ink on Canvas
Image 4	Papaver somniferum	Painting	30" x 40" Acrylic and Ink on Canvas
Image 5	Cacti	Painting	26" x 36" Acrylic and Ink on Canvas
Image 6	Semper augustus	Painting	22" x 30" Acrylic and Ink on Canvas
Image 7	Zantedeschia aethiopica	Painting	24" x 32" Acrylic and Ink on Canvas
Image 8	Orchidea	Painting	16" x 20" Acrylic and Ink on Canvas
Image 9	Iris	Painting	30" x 40" Acrylic and Ink on Canvas
Image 10	Passiflora phoenicea	Painting	30" x 40" Acrylic and Ink on Canvas

Image 1: Lilium martagon

Image 2: Lophophora williamsii

Image 3: Papaver orientale

Image 4. Papaver somniferum

Image 5. Cacti

Image 6. Semper augustus

Image 7. Zantedeschia authiopica

Image 8. Orcidea

Image 9. Iris

Image 10. Passiflora phoenicea