Performer Bios

Composer, performer and educator, Woody Witt is a saxophonist setting his tone as a leader in the jazz world today. His fresh ideas and original approach to improvisation and composition have earned him a place to perform with some of the top names in the industry.

Born in Omaha, Nebraska in 1969, Woody discovered his love for music at the early age of 8. He manages a diverse music career centered in Houston, TX. To quote Grammy Award Winning trumpeter and composer, Randy Brecker, "Woody Witt continues the tradition of great 'Texas Tenors' with a big fat sound, fresh ideas and a decidedly modern and original approach to improvisation and composition. A perfect combination of building on the past and searching for the future." Woody's style can be recognized instantly - it is that weaving of the old with the new that catches the listener's ear. His sound is distinctive and sought after by many jazz artists: Tim Hagans, Louis Hayes, Adam Nussbaum, James Moody, Conrad Herwig, David Liebman and others.

Woody's first CD, released in 2002, launched him into the recording industry with a sense of newfound passion. With the international release of his second CD, "Square Peg, Round Hole," on Apria Records, the world jazz community should take notice. Woody teamed up with world renown jazz artists Randy Brecker (trumpet), David Kikoski (piano), Johannes Weidenmueller (bass) and Ari Hoenig (drums) to record eight of his original compositions.

Woody has established himself as a notable musician in the area and has performed with the Houston Symphony Exxson-Mobil Pops Series backing artists including Ray Charles, Kenny Rogers and Tony Bennett. His musical journey has offered him stints with the touring Broadway production of 42nd Street as well as Tommy Tune. He has premiered new works that break down barriers between the musical genres of classical and jazz as a featured soloist on "Up South" for jazz ensemble and orchestra and "Three Musicians," a work for soprano saxophone, guitar and bass, both by noted composer, Dr. Robert Nelson. Woody is also the manager/artistic director of one of the city's only jazz clubs, C  zanne. In addition to maintaining a full performing schedule, his career has led him to adjudicate many jazz festivals: University of Houston, University of Texas, GCIC, McNeese State, Harlingen and others.

While attaining his Doctorate in Musical Arts at the University of Houston Moores School of Music, he discovered improvisation is the most free form of musical expression - this is his tool in striving for purity of sound and clearly presenting musical ideas. Many forms of music have influenced Woody, ranging from classical to jazz, to popular music and more. Woody's educational career and vast experience have fueled his drive to pursue purity in music. With an ear for complex melody, he has composed some of the most interesting and memorable melodies reinforced by colorful harmonies. He produces songs that provide a source of inspiration upon which the improviser can create their own variations.

Dr. Witt is a full time instructor at Houston Community College and is an affiliate artist at the University of Houston Moores School of Music. Woody holds a Masters degree in Jazz Studies from the prestigious University of North Texas where he taught saxophone and jazz methods. He was named the Outstanding Graduate Student in 1995. He received a Doctor of Musical Arts degree from the Moores School of Music at the University of Houston in 2000. Woody is a Yamaha Performing Artist.

Pianist, composer, and arranger Larry Ham has long been a noted New York sideman, performing, touring, and recording with many great jazz artists. More recently he has received international critical acclaim for his trio CD "Carousel" featuring his own compositions and arrangements, and a second solo piano release "Just Me, Just You..." on Arbors Jazz Records. Both are available on the "CDs" page.

David Dupont of Cadence Jazz Magazine writes, "He glides over the keys with each note articulated cleanly...his playing is masterful." And Mike Neely in All About Jazz calls him "...a pianist well on his way to becoming a master."

Larry began his professional career in the Lionel Hampton Orchestra in the late '80's. He was pianist in the Illinois Jacquet Big Band 1990-95 and has worked extensively with countless other jazz legends, including the late Junior Cook and Dakota Staton. He has appeared at jazz festivals, concerts and nightclubs throughout the United States, Europe, West Africa, and Japan. His recent New York appearances include Jazz at Lincoln Center, Carnegie Hall, Iridium, The Village Vanguard, Small's, The Kitano Hotel, and Harlem's historic Lenox Lounge.

His jazz festival performances include the Grande Parade du Jazz in Nice, France, the North Sea Festival in The Hague, Holland, the Pori Jazz Festival in Finland, Jazz Yatra in Bombay, India, The Charlie Parker Festival in New York, the Ottawa Jazz Festival, and at the Kennedy Center in Washington DC. He also performed at the White House for President Reagan and for President Clinton's 1992 Inaugural Ball. Larry appeared in the jazz film "Texas Tenor" and has been a guest on TV programs including "The Today Show" (NBC) "Breakfast Time" (FX) and has been featured on NPR programs such as “Jazz Set with Dee Dee Bridgewater” and on Judy Carmichael’s “Jazz Inspired.”

As a United States Department of State Jazz Ambassador, Larry toured eleven West African nations in 2001-02 in a cultural exchange program, performing in concert, and conducting workshops on the art of playing jazz. From 2002-05 he was pianist and musical director for the New York Tapdance Festival, also touring the United States and Russia, Greece and Italy.

During the past few years he has toured extensively in the US, and performed in Japan, Canada, Germany, Poland, England, Switzerland, Austria and France. In 2007, he appeared at the Kennedy Center and at Zankel Hall (Carnegie Hall) with Catherine Russell, and in Prague, in the Czech Republic. Recent festival appearances include The Montreal Jazz Festival, The Rochester Jazz Festival, The Cape Cod Jazz Festival, the New Jersey JazzFest, and a performance for The West Texas Jazz Society.

Larry earned a BA in Musical Studies from the Crane School of Music at SUNY Potsdam, and an MA in Jazz Performance from the Aaron Copland School of Music at Queens College in New York City. He is currently an Adjunct Professor at Dutchess Community College in Poughkeepsie, NY, teaching Jazz Piano, Jazz History, and Improvisation.
